BRYAN'S RUDE TALK

W. J. BRYAN said the other day that one trust magnate in stripes, behind prison bars, would do more to break up trusts than all the speeches the President can make.

This is very rude talk.

Was that a proper way for Bryan to refer to the nice people—people of wealth; prominent citizens who wear good clothing and ride in carriages?

It does not seem at times as though we needed a stronger Government—a Government that would stop such coarse talk. Things have come to a pretty pass if men of millions, who have availed themselves of opportunities to get good prices, and to water stock so as to make plenty of it for investors, are to be referred to in terms suited to a common robber?

Such men as Bryan are dangerous. They would tear down all distinctions between the better classes—the people who build good houses, dress well and drive good horses—and the common people.

To think of an man like Mark Hanna, John D. Rockefeller or J. Pierpont Morgan wearing a striped suit is enough to make any lady or gentleman shudder.

Fortunately the better classes who are the real bulwarks of our government, pay very little attention to persons like Bryan, who freely mingle with the greasy and ignorant masses and constantly bid for the applause of the vulgar herd.

The republic escaped a great danger when this wild Nebraska agitator was defeated in his presumptuous effort to reach the Presidency. Had it not been for the efforts of the trusts, that peril might have been safely passed.

PRINCIPLES, NOT MEN

THERE are other papers in this State who believe as does the Appeal, that the political fight of this campaign should be made on the issues and principles and not men. The Carson County Times, a Republican paper, sizes the situation thus, in speaking of the two tickets:

On the first page of this issue will be found the tickets of both political parties of this State. A perusal of the tickets will show that both carry the names of representative men of Nevada. The Democratic ticket is made up principally of present incumbents, some of whom have already served the people for eight years, and some for only four years. All who have served have made fair records, and would so continue to do, without doubt, if elected again. There is no doubt the Democratic ticket has had strength added to it by the nomination of John Sparks for Governor. The other nominations along down to the foot of the ticket is about as healthy a one as the Democrats could cut out from the material in their ranks.

Turning to the Republican ticket you find a list of representative men from the name of Hon. Thomas P. Hawley, for United States Senator, down to Tom Osbourne, the nominee for District Judge in the Fourth District. It has been many years since the people of Nevada have had a chance to vote for as good a ticket, of any denomination, as has this year been presented to them by the Republican party. The ticket is one which we believe it would be for the best interests of the State to have win. There are those who differ from this view, and to them we give the privilege of so thinking, believing that an honest difference of opinion is no crime.

THE action of the German gunboat Panther in sinking the Crete-Pierrot is giving our European friends much concern, but we fail to any large number of Yankees who are walking the floor about it. But it all goes to show that the effete countries are viewing us at all times with anxious eyes. It is quite surprising to note what the Spanish war did for America in causing it to attract the attention of the people of the foreign districts.—Los Angeles Times.

THE usual reports come out of the north of the immensely wealthy new gold diggings, the latest being from the Natina district in the Copper river district. While some of the reports of rich finds may be authentic, past experience proves that a large percentage of such reports are sent out in the interests of the transportation companies. It will be well for those who read of such finds to take such finds to take them with a reservation.—Oakland Enquirer.

WHILE PRESIDENT ROOSEVELT was in Chicago during his western trip, he might have spent a little time profitably in looking for the remains of the meat trust he abolished so valoriously some months ago. He'll find those "remains" still doing business at the old stand on a larger scale than ever.
